

I've already waited 7-15 days, and summer is almost over. So, please refund my money.

Hello,

Since all our packages are insured, you do not need to worry about the item being lost. It simply takes some time to verify the situation—approximately 7–15 business days. We sincerely apologize for the inconvenience.

Hello,

As this involves global air transport, some regions require connecting flights due to limited flight availability, which takes some time; we appreciate your understanding. I have urged the logistics company to expedite the processing of your order; please wait patiently.

Hello,

The logistics provider needs some time to process a large volume of packages from the same batch. I have urged them to process and deliver your package as soon as possible.
